A sincere and heartfelt thank you is owed to the Rajan family for their generous support and appreciation towards the Fairfield police department. The delectable breakfast they provided us was truly remarkable and brought smiles to our faces. Acts of kindness like these are truly cherished by our department.

Let us all welcome our newest Animal control Officer, Stacy Rameor. She comes with lots of experience, and we are excited to have her as part of the Team. Congrats!

Detective Beth Leetch and Lieutenant Ed Nook had the pleasure of offering support during the Ludlowe High School field trip at Fitclub BJJ. This exceptional class being taught by Jane Palmer and Janice Mayeran is empowering for their students. They all were a blast to work with.

Officer Rob Curcio and Sergeant Rich Peck are providing valuable self-defense training to our police explorers, giving them a great foundation for their future careers in law enforcement. We are grateful to Joe Oppedisano for his unwavering support of the Fairfield police department. These young men and women are learning the best techniques for protecting themselves and serving their community. Also, congratulations to Sergeant Richard Peck on his promotion to blue belt.

Thanks again to team Moneco along with their many generous clients for supporting our annual toy drive. The unwrapped toys that you have provided will be distributed by the Fairfield police department to those in need.

Santas' merry helpers are spreading joy and the Grinch has even joined in! This is a beautiful example of giving back. These donated toys from kind-hearted individuals are now being shared with those in need by the Fairfield Police Department.

Officer Wells and the entire Fairfield Police department have a rich history of showing their support for the Special Olympics. Over the weekend, we hit the streets to collect funds for these exceptional athletes. We are very grateful to all the kind-hearted individuals who took the time to make donations, as well as to those who generously volunteered their valuable time to assist in this cause.
